THE WEST WILL MEET THE EAST

WHEN THE C. N. R. REACHES EDMONTON

Lieut.-Gov. Bulyea will drive the Silver Spike Which will Complete the Link Between Edmonton and the Outside World

Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—The West will meet the East this week at Edmonton, when a silver spike shaped from metal taken from a mine owned by D. D. Mann at Fort Steele will be driven into a tamarac tie cut from the forests at Rainy River, Ont., thus marking the completion of the Canadian Northern to its western terminus for this season. Mr. Mann is now on his way west from Toronto

ALBERTA NORMAL SCHOOL FOR CALGARY

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.—Hon. A. C. Rutherford, Premier of Alberta, was in the city yesterday, passing through on his way to Regina, and possibly to Winnipeg.

The Premier in an interview with the school for Alberta would be located temporarily in Calgary for the season beginning in January, and permanently as soon as the buildings can be erected. Arrangements have been made to occupy part of the public school buildings for temporary quarters.

It is rumored here that Hiebert, the only Conservative elected in Alberta, will not be able to hold his seat on account of not being naturalized.

ANOTHER MINING FATALITY AT BANKHEAD

Calgary, Nov. 20.—Another fatal accident occurred in the Bankhead mine on Friday, the victim being James Sullivan, a native of Halifax, who was run over by a train of coal trolleys and received injuries that resulted in his death an hour later. Deceased was employed as a switchman in the mine, and was about 25 years of age.

Sergeant Shoebottom received orders from Calgary on Saturday forenoon to secure a coroner's jury in Bankhead, and on the arrival of Doctor Crawford, of Calgary, to take the jury to Bankhead to hold an inquest on the body of Sullivan. This action

ATLANTIC STORMS CLAIM EIGHTEEN VICTIMS

Halifax, Nov. 21.—The rocky coast of Yarmouth has claimed another wreck in the loss of the Norwegian steamship, Turbin, which struck the black ledge mud islands on Friday. The steamer is reported to have sunk ten minutes after striking and her crew of eighteen men perished with her. The news of the disaster was brought to Clarke Harbor today by a small steamer, the Edna H., which reported the loss under the circumstances stated of a steamer supposed to be the Turbin. The steamer was chartered by the Dominion Coal Company, whose officials say they have no doubt it is the Turbin as she left Sydney with a cargo of coal for Yarmouth on Wednesday and should have reached that port on Friday. The trip ordinarily takes only 36 hours, but tonight she was three and a half days over due. Since Sunday morning of last week one of the heaviest gales and most tempestuous seas in many months prevailed on the Nova Scotia coast.

STRATHCONA NEWS

Interesting Items from Edmonton's Sister Town

Mr. Annable and son, who came from Michigan Sunday evening have gone out to Beaver Lake.

A gang of men under foreman Manchester commenced to excavate on Main street south from McDonald avenue.

Mr. Morrison, formerly of Bruce Mines left town Monday morning for Calgary. He has been in the West for about three years and has secured a good homestead near Island Lake where he proposes going early in the spring.

Mr. Ballantine, a telegrapher from Whitty, Ont., took the train yesterday morning for Calgary. He has been of late operator on the C.N.R., and came West over the new road a few days ago. He says the C.N.R. runs through a fine section of country which is being fast taken up by a good class of settlers. He proposes going into business on the new line early in the spring of 1906.

PROVINCIAL BILLS

INFRINGE FEDERAL RIGHTS

Quebec Legislature Exceeds its Power—Ontario Will Be Asked to Amend Law

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—The Dominion Government has notified the province of Quebec that some twelve bills passed at the legislature give right to insurance, investment and trust corporations to do business outside of Quebec which is an infringement of Dominion rights. The province is asked to amend these or they will have to be disallowed. Another bill passed by Ontario puts a tax on companies working under Federal charter in that province. This is a discrimination against Dominion companies. The bill was allowed to go into force because the Ross Government promised to amend it. In the meantime the Gross Government was defeated and Whitney did not carry out the promise. The Dominion is now putting the matter before Mr. Whitney asking him to implement the minute of council passed by his predecessors agreeing to amend the bill.

SURVEYOR KILLED IN THE MOUNTAINS

Calgary, Nov. 20.—A fatality occurred at Hector in the mountains, the victim being John P. Mitchell, aged 21. He belonged to McCall's survey party which was working up the Kicking Horse Pass. The gang started out on Friday and when travelling along a narrow ledge, Mitchell tripped and fell to a ledge twelve feet below. He frantically grasped a large boulder to save himself. It was not firmly imbedded and went down with him. He fell with it on another ledge and bounced again onto another fifty feet lower. Life was extinct when he was reached by his companions.

FEDERAL ISSUES IN THE CAMPAIGN

Our friends of the Opposition press are quite busy these days assuring us that the result in Alberta is not to be construed as an expression of public opinion on the school and land clauses of the autonomy bill; quite as busy as were the same gentlemen a fortnight since assuring us that these same clauses were the real issues of the campaign and that the public hostility toward them would hurl the Rutherford Administration into oblation. There is always the charitable supposition that a reversal of opinion indicates the reception of more light, but the suddenness of this conversion leaves room for the dark surmise that it was a case of "Heads I win, tails you lose." The stand of our friends appears to be that the people were asked to give a verdict on certain questions but that if the verdict did not agree with the views of the Opposition it was not a verdict; that if the Opposition were placed in power it was a sign that the people were opposed to the school and land clauses but that if the Government were sustained the school and land questions had nothing to do with the case.

The Opposition were entirely wrong in their first contention. The provincial Government did not appeal to the people for endorsement for any enactment of the Federal Parliament; they appealed on the basis of the kind of administration they proposed to give Alberta for the coming four years. There was a time when the opinion of the West on the bills might have been quite easily and properly ascertained. During the long months when the Opposition held up business in the Federal House declining against the inquiry of the proposed legislation Hon. F. W. G. Haultain was Premier of the Northwest Territories, and it lay within his power to call together the Legislative Assembly, the members of which, he claimed, had been elected on the autonomy platform as laid down by himself in 1902. A vote of this body would have been a proper means of determining the attitude of the west toward the bills. There remained another test open to him. There were for upwards of a year seven vacancies in the Assembly. Mr. Haultain could have brought on these by-elections and he secured a mandate straight from the people. But Mr. Haultain did not venture to consult either the Assembly or the people. The opportunities were lost, the bills became law, and passed out of the sphere of Territorial and Provincial politics. Instead of seeking to arouse a controversy already closed the Government appealed on a program for progressive Provincial administration. This was the real and fundamental issue of the campaign.

But the revised opinion of the Opposition press is as far astray as was the original. Whatever else the result of the Alberta elections may have indicated, it revealed in the clearest manner possible that there was not in the public mind, as the Opposition had contended, a spirit of hostility toward the school and land clauses, sufficiently strong to lead the electors to disregard the matters of real Provincial concern in their desire to strike at everything bearing the name Liberal. It demonstrated further that the strenuous efforts of the Opposition party and press to create such hostility had signally failed. If the Alberta contest was not waged and decided on the school and land questions, the fault certainly was not that of the Alberta Conservatives and the present contention of the Opposition press that these were not the deciding factors in the election is a voluntary admission that the party for which it speaks failed absolutely in their purpose to make these the issues. All that that party could do was to deflect public attention from the policy of the Government and the matters of practical Provincial concern to the controverted clauses and to what degree their efforts were successful, to the same degree is the result a popular judgment of their course and of the issues they raised.

SOME TELEGRAM LOGIC

The Winnipeg Telegram figures that "The gerrymander in Alberta has won the elections." Without wishing to question the judgment of the Telegram and its friends of the efficacy of a "gerrymander" when administered for the purpose of dissipating a Liberal majority in one riding among the surrounding Conservative constituencies we may be permitted to think that Opposition logic has produced no greater error than the above.

The contention of the Telegram apparently is that the arrangement of Alberta constituencies is favorable to the location of the capital at Edmonton, and that this was a source of strength to the Provincial Government. This argument might be used in regard to central and northern Alberta, but what of the southern constituencies, which went without an exception for the Government? Would such an argument be favorable to the Government candidates in Calgary, Glendon, Banff, High River, Macleod, Pincher Creek, Cardston, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat? If so why did the Opposition speakers in these constituencies deliberately attempt to identify the claims of Calgary with the chances of the Conservative party? Does the Telegram imply that in so doing these gentlemen were unconsciously advancing an argument which told against their candidates and in favor of the Government?

UNSATISFACTORY QUARANTINE ARRANGEMENTS

The Bulletin is asked to publish the following letter which has been sent by the writer to the Mayor.

The Mayor and Aldermen, Edmonton.
Dear Sirs: Do you know there is no isolation hospital in Edmonton? and do you know that there is absolutely no provision made for persons who are suffering from infectious diseases which are prevalent in this town? If you do not know, I will enlighten you by relating my experience of the disgraceful state of affairs now existing, so that you will know after receiving this. After being in Edmonton three weeks, I felt ill and consulted a doctor, he advised me going to the hospital, which I did, and after which he made enquiries and found that there had been a recent case of scarlet fever in the hotel at which I had been staying. I was then removed to what, formerly been a house of ill-repute and which consisted of a dining room, a sitting room, two bedrooms and a sort of out-house. The occupants of this house consisted of a man, his wife and two young girls. The wife is a chronic invalid and can do no work. One girl had scarlet fever. There were already three others in the place with scarlet fever, and the mother of one with influenza. I then came in, and then the second girl also got scarlet fever. This made eight people to be waited on by one man, who had to do duty as nurse, cook, and everything else that was required.
The dining room was occupied by the two girls with scarlet fever, the invalid wife and the husband.
After not being able to eat anything at all for some days, my meals consisted of one egg, two pieces of toast, tea, generally without milk, (the man said he could not get it) and butter which was so, several occasions rancid, and in the middle of the day some tough meat and potatoes which it would take a healthy dog to digest. The sanitary arrangements were in keeping with the rest. The man would often pay for food with paper dollars obtained from me. These are probably full of germs and were not fumigated and are now circulating in Edmonton. Some times we were left without food and no means of getting it. The man had either to break the quarantine regulations and go and get it or we had to starve. About a week before my time to come out, one of the girls' glands started swelling, her face then broke out in sores. On enquiring after her doctor had visited her what was the matter, she said the doctor says it is something catching and is going around. I was getting well from scarlet fever and found myself quarantined in the place where some fresh infectious disease had broken out. My statements can be verified by your medical officer, Dr. Braithwaite or by Dr. Barrow, who attended me, or by any of the victims that were incarcerated in the dirty disease infected den. Finally I ask if the medical health officer has reported this state of affairs to you? If he has, not I leave the public to judge whether he is a fit man to hold the position or not but if he has I leave the public to judge whether any one of you are fit and proper persons to occupy the positions you may hold.

I am, yours, etc.
A. G. WITCOMBE.

OPERA

The Russian Comic Opera Company began their second season in Edmonton last night, when they opened a week's engagement in Robertson's Hall. The splendid reputation won by the company on their former visit was attested by a first night audience which filled the house to the doors.

The bill for the evening was the well-known Italian opera "Fra Diavolo." This was one of the operas presented by the company on their former visit and its rendition last night demonstrated that while there have been changes in the personnel of the company the standard of excellence has been maintained and in some cases raised. The performance was carried through with a swing which bespoke thorough familiarity, while many of the solos were exceptionally good and the chorus work splendid. A word of praise is due the orchestra on whose masterly handling of the music much of the success of an opera must depend.

A new member of the company who won favor with the audience was Miss Lucia Nola who represented Zerkina. Miss Nola has a rich soprano voice, which was heard to splendid effect in the many beautiful solos falling to her part.

Miss Hazel Davenport as Lady Alcazar displayed considerable histrionic ability and her pleasing voice and manner brought out the strong points of a minor role.

Mr. F. W. Walters appeared again as Lorenzo and the applause with which he was greeted was amply merited in his representation of the character. The part has several difficult solos to which Mr. Walters' full strong tenor did full justice.

Mr. Hillard Campbell as "Fra Diavolo" displayed unusual dramatic power and while the "villain of the play" is never popular, Mr. Campbell's merits did not fail of recognition.

The comedy parts were very well taken by Messrs. Claude Amnden and Jack Leslie, who never failed to make the most of a funny situation. Their word plays were without affectation or effort and several local "hits" proved great fun makers.

The company will play each night of the week presenting the following operas:

Tuesday, "El Capitán."
Wednesday, "Clowns of Normandy."
Thursday, "Bohemian Girl."
Friday, "Mileto."
Saturday, "Telephone Girl."

PREMIER'S BIRTHDAY

SIR WILFRID IS SIXTY-FOUR

Spent the Day Attending to Business—

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier celebrated today his sixty-fourth birthday. He observed the occasion by sticking closely to work in his office, where he was the recipient of many congratulations from personal friends as well as scores of telegrams from outside places.

FINANCIALS ANXIOUS

Berlin, Nov. 18.—German holders of Russian securities are beginning to feel extremely uneasy over the situation in Russia as they realize that it is bound to affect adversely the economic conditions of the Russian Empire and the financial standing of the government. Popular uprisings like those in Russia at the present time unsettle more than a war commercial and industrial conditions, paralyze capital and cripple the resources of the government. The foreign holders of Russian securities are beginning to feel the future of the Empire and the future of the Russian securities. The disquieting reports of riot and bloodshed with avidity. Many millions in Russian securities are in the hands of German capitalists and to that extent they are interested in the preservation of Russia's financial integrity.

An article published by Professor Ballod, an official of the German Imperial Statistical Department, causes the greatest consternation among German investors in Russian securities. In that article, which is considering the advisability of declaring partial bankruptcy, partially repudiating the country's foreign liabilities, for months past. In June he declares the Russian Government commissioned a number of experts to elaborate reports on the effect that partial repudiation of foreign liabilities would produce on Russia's own economic development. The Mittag Zeitung describes Professor Ballod's revelations as a bombshell to all investors in Russian securities.

The same panic feeling which has been caused here by this article, the Manchester Guardian is authority for the statement that the scheme to employ British navy has been abandoned and that the plan for American to undertake the same work has also been dropped. The reason given for the abandonment of the project is that it has been found that the establishment of shipyards and shops in Russia would not pay and there is not much chance of profit in the development of a state-assisted merchant shipping project. The real cause of the abandonment, however, is believed to be the uncertain financial conditions existing in Russia.

FATAL FIRE

Shreveport, La., Nov. 21.—Fire yesterday destroyed the police station city hall and other buildings. Loss $125,000. One life was lost and three people injured.

BUSINESS IS GOOD.

New York, Nov. 18.—Bradstreet's report today says: Canadian trade in staple goods in wholesale is quieter, but holiday specialties show increased activity. Dry goods leading, with hardware and groceries also reporting a fair trade. High prices and good demand for dairy products have helped Canadian trade this fall. It is estimated that $30,000,000 have been brought into the province of Quebec by sales of these products. Montreal reports collections fair from the province and good from the west.

Toronto advises indicate that trade is satisfactory and a large holiday business is being done. Shipments of goods west are checked by a scarcity of cars due to the heavy grain movement against 40 last week and 24 in this week a year ago.

Following are the bank clearings as compiled by Bradstreet for the week ending November 16, showing percentage of increase and decrease as compared with the corresponding week last year:

WINNIPEG MARKETS

[From the Commercial]

Trade in Manitoba wheat in the Winnipeg Market has shown a good demand most of the time. Prices seem to be influenced more by the fluctuations in the American market than by anything else, although the large bulk of wheat must go for export. The lake freight situation is seriously against prices. Owing to delay in unloading at the other side vessels lose at least one trip out of three they could make, and freight rates are higher in consequence, the rate now being 50 per bushel as compared with 25 at the beginning of October. The increase in freight rates decreases the price of wheat at this end. Today's prices are: No. 1 hard, 81c; No. 1 northern, 77 3/4c; No. 2 northern, 75 1/2c; No. 3 northern, 73 1/2c; spot or delivery first half November. Futures on the option market closed, Nov., 77 1/2c; Dec., 75 5/8c; May, 81c. All prices are for in store Fort William and Port Arthur.

Oats—No. 1 new oats, 32c; No. 2 oats, 31c per bushel in car lots on track Winnipeg.

Barley—No. 3, 35c per bushel; No. 4, 32c per bushel, car lots on track here.

No roughened, chapped hands if Lifebuoy Soap is used. It's as healing as it is cleansing.

The Cream Separator that is the Cheapest in the End.

There are some folks who are everlastingly trying to get "something for nothing." They buy a wagon at a "bargain" price because the agent says it's "just as good." And then, after a few months, when the tires and spokes have all loosened up, they cross the wagon.

Price not the only Difference.

It's the same way with cream separators. You can buy many other separators for less money than the U. S. Cream Separator sells for, but before you've finished paying for the experiment you'll find price isn't the only difference. The cheaper separators soon get out of adjustment because built of cheaper material by inferior manufacturing methods; they consume twice the necessary amount of oil; they have a bowl that will not run true, and does not skim clean. The repair in the first few weeks would pay the difference for the U. S. Cream Separator.

Durability is Important.

The U. S. Cream Separator has stood the test of time. Many of them have been in use for 10 years, and cost less than a dollar for repairs. They run easy, skim cleaner than others, have a simple bowl, curved gona, and a convenient low supply can.

The Vermont Farm Machine Co., of Bellows Falls, Vt., have printed in a handsome booklet a few of the thousands of letters from satisfied users of the U. S. Cream Separator. This booklet will save you money when you buy a separator, and a post card will bring it to you.

To insure prompt deliveries and to save freight charges for their Canadian customers, they ship from their warehouses at Montreal, Sherbrooke, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver, but all letters should be addressed to Bellows Falls, Vt.

CAMPAIGN ECHOES

Alberton: R. A. Wallace, the Liberal candidate for High River, was in the city yesterday, returning to Okotoks, last night. He reports that according to the returns received he is behind by fourteen votes, but that there is a chance that this may be changed on the final count, as some of his votes were locked up, and some votes were illegally cast. The final count before the returning officer will take place at Okotoks today.

Mr. Wallace explains his low vote by the action of a few large ranchers who were after him on personal grounds. In the first place they induced Mr. Thorne to come out and oppose him, but seeing that Thorne had no chance of defeating him, they turned in and supported Mr. Robertson.

In the riding in which the man who was instrumental in bringing out Mr. Thorne, not a vote was cast for that gentleman, which proves that the Thorne vote, which at one time promised to be an element in the fight, switched to the Conservatives.

(Mr. Wallace has since been declared elected.)

Medicine Hat News: Mr. Finlay expresses himself as very highly satisfied with the way the country voters stood by him, and he will not likely forget their claims upon his position and influence at Edmonton. The adverse vote in the town, Mr. Finlay does not wonder at, when he considers that he had opposed to him the influence of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the temperance advocates, almost the whole of the liquor interests, and those whose opinions were strong on the school question. During the campaign, Mr. Finlay's time was spent much in the country, where he put up a good majority.

Medicine Hat's interests will have his best attention at the Alberta capital.

STRATHCONA INQUEST

Coroner's Jury Concludes Emigh Died of Heart Failure Caused by Drink

Strathcona, Nov. 21.—Coroner Crang held an inquest in the town hall at 2 p.m. yesterday in the case of T. H. Emigh, who died yesterday morning.

Frank C. Wood, the first witness testified that he went up stairs at 7.30 at the Royal hotel, and found the deceased lying on his left side, breathing heavily. He went down stairs and said to the bar keeper that there was a man dead upstairs. They both went up together and found the deceased dead lying in the hall. They raised him up against the wall and sent for Dr. Collison.

Wm. Yanne, bartender at the Royal, testified that the deceased came into the bar about 7.15 a.m., and got a small drink of whiskey and then went up stairs for about 15 or 20 minutes. He came back and went upstairs. He heard a noise and said the man was dying. He went up stairs and found the man was dying. Wood came back and said the man was dying. He went up stairs and found the man was dying. Wood came back and said the man was dying. He went up stairs and found the man was dying.

Mr. Peterson, the proprietor of the boarding house, testified that he heard the deceased come down stairs and try to get into the bar, but it was locked. Deceased walked through the hall, he saw who it was and told him to go to bed. He asked about his coat. He told the deceased he would look the coat up for him and that he would bring up his breakfast. He then went in to his breakfast and heard a noise, but did not know what it was. After he came out he heard the man was dying. He went up stairs and saw that the man was dead. Dr. Collison was sent for and pronounced him dead.

Fleming Sampson testified that he roomed with the deceased and that he gave him a spoonful of medicine about 6 a.m. He then went to bed and did not see Mr. Emigh again alive. He stated that deceased did not sleep well through the night, and said he wanted to go home. He first met deceased in 1878, in the States.

Mr. Harris, ex-policeman, also gave evidence. He said he knew the deceased for some time and that he had given him his money to keep. He had given it back to him. Mr. Harris also saw the deceased on Sunday. He seemed to be sober.

Mr. McKernan, proprietor of the Dominion Hotel, testified that he knew the deceased and that he was a heavy drinker. He also had kept money for him for a time. He also saw deceased on the street Sunday, and he appeared to be sober.

Dr. Collison testified that he was called Sunday to see deceased and found him restless and nervous. He gave him medicine and hypodermic injection and told him to keep in bed. Saw him again Monday morning and found him dead. He gave the opinion that the extra strain of going upstairs when in a weak state was the immediate cause of death.

The jury were Messrs. Main, Wainwright, McKernan, Jas. Fuller, Thompson and Knapp, who after viewing the body and hearing the evidence gave the verdict: "That deceased came to his death from heart failure, caused by excessive drinking."

WORKMEN APPEAL TO SOLDIERS
St. Petersburg, Nov. 20.—The workmen's Committee today addressed the following appeal to the soldiers and sailors:

Comrades and brothers: For a long time we have misunderstood each other. Your officers taught you to regard us as enemies of the fatherland and as criminals whom you should shoot, beat with your whips and butcher with your bayonets.

"Our struggle for the people's freedom and the people's well-being has been depicted to you as a revolution against the Fatherland which you are obliged to suppress. And you believing this, have shot your own brothers, filling the streets of our town with their blood."

"The case is now changed. The eyes of many of the soldiers and sailors have been opened. They understand that all of us are brothers and that we are sons of the nation, whose common enemies are your commanders and those in power. They understand that the Liberty of the people is their own Liberty and the good of the people, their own good."

"The men of the Black Sea fleet and at Cronstadt, stood against their commanders and against that they wanted liberty and they associated themselves with the people. A Hundred sailors at Cronstadt have been handed over to a court martial and may tomorrow be executed."

The working men of St. Petersburg, struck, demanding the release of our soldiers and our brothers and the abolition of court martials and the death penalty."

"It is impossible that you officers and sailors will not read and help your brothers at Cronstadt!"

"It is possible that you will remain hand in hand with the murderers of your brothers!"

SIX HUNDRED SOLDIERS KILLED
Vladivostok, Nov. 20.—The damage done by revolutionaries here amounts to $25,000,000. Six hundred of the garrison are killed and Gen. Kappeck is missing. The soldiers from Harbin joined the rioters.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 20.—The strike has been called off and the lives of 1600 strikers have been saved at Cronstadt.
